

PARTICIPATION OF HOME SCHOOLED STUDENTS IN EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

POLICY:

Home-education students currently enrolled in home-education programs registered with the School District, as well as students entering grades nine (9) through twelve (12) in a public school from a home-education program, are eligible to participate in extracurricular activities, provided they meet all rules established by the School Board and Florida High School Athletic Association by-laws or other association overseeing such activities.

The students are eligible to participate at the public school to which the student would be assigned or attending according to school board attendance and choice policy.
